

I'M GOOD ENOUGH. I'M SMART ENOUGH. WORKSHEET

What is the "should" that you are comparing yourself against?

(Ex. I should have a law degree before I run for office)

How is it perfect that you are right where you are, right now?

(What experience, specialty, and talent do you contribute?)

What have you done to set yourself up to succeed?

Are you willing to let go of the notion that there is some form of "ready" and that all you really need to do is be willing?
